Control your energy bills year-round

The RBC air handler's direct-drive motor runs smoothly and efficiently, delivering comfortable, consistent airflow and helping reduce your utility costs season after season, year after year. These air handlers can provide even greater savings when matched with the appropriate air conditioner or heat pump.

Built for lasting reliability

Rugged construction and durable materials—like pre-painted steel cabinets—provide years of trouble-free service. Every component in the RBC air handlers line is built to last. And with a wide range of capacities and installation configurations available, there's an Aire-Flo air handler perfectly suited for your home.
